

LEAD through Adversity

Kelle Salter – VP of Voice
Services Time Warner, Inc.

Adversity

LEAD through Adversity

- L – lead through communication
- L – lead with commitment
- E – educate yourself – seminars etc.
- E – express yourself often and well
- A – associate with others – network
- A – activate your inner voice
- D – be determined
- D – have a desire for you work

Lead through Communication:

- Understand your audience
- Encourage and empathize with Constituents
- Be sincere, phoniness is always uncovered by actions

LEAD: Lead with Commitment

- Be loyal to your company
- Be loyal to your employees
- Be committed to excellence

LEAD: Educate Yourself

- Formally through seminars and other training
- Informally on culture of the organization and overall culture of business
- Ask questions

LEAD: Express Yourself Often and Well

- Leaders fall short in believing that they have communicated thoroughly with their employees when they bring something up one time.

LEAD: Associate with Others- Network

- Join organizations which will help you learn from your peers in other organizations.
- Network Externally and Internally

LEAD: Activate Your Inner Voice

- Warren Bennis in one of his books on leadership mentions that leaders should listen to their inner voice.
- Whether it is an angel or whether it is your conscious, or whatever it is, my inner voice has kept me from making mistakes.

LEAD: Be Determined

- Determination or being perseverant is a reward in itself.
- Life is full of hardship we only lose when we discontinue our efforts.

LEAD: Work with Desire

- Work is not an ugly four letter word.
- Work is what brings purpose to life and without purpose we would find no meaning.
- Meaning brings wealth and joy to life.

LEAD through Adversity

- L – lead through communication
- L – lead with commitment
- E – educate yourself – seminars etc.
- E – express yourself often and well
- A – associate with others – network
- A – activate your inner voice
- D – be determined
- D – have a desire for you work

Leading through Adversity

- Questions?

