

general studies, graphic design, history, humanities, mathematics, music, political science, psychology, religion and theatre. BS programs include biochemistry, biology, chemistry, exercise science, and mathematics. BBA programs include accounting, information systems, management, marketing, finance, and international business.

Dr. Ronald Hatchett, director of Schreiner University's Center for Global Studies, was the featured "Speak Truth to Power" lecturer on Nov. 16. There was a question and answer session following his lecture, "The Roots of Terrorism." Hatchett's academic specialties are foreign policy, European studies and Middle Eastern affairs, and his experiences include working within the U.S. Department of State.

Dr. Robert Holloway, assistant professor of chemistry, presented the fourth Robert P. Hallman Chautauqua lecture series entitled, "Better Living Through Chemistry" on Nov. 28. Holloway focused on the future saying, "A considerable fraction of the world's energy comes from petroleum, and it is a valuable raw material. It is likely that half the petroleum in the world has been burned and that which is left will be much harder to obtain going forward."

Pictured are the newest inductees into Alpha Lambda Delta. Bottom row left to right, Anna Oran, Alisa Rolle and Amy Vickers, second row left to right, Elaine Murray, Zena Gardner, Samantha Talley and Lacey Lesosky. Third row left to right, Nick Morrison, Kristi Click, Kerrie Carter and Melanie Herbert. Fourth row left to right, Johnny Eaton, Pamela Bryant, Winston Berryhill and Ashley Moore. Last row left to right, Alpha Lambda Delta advisors, Dr. Gary Biel, associate professor of psychology, and Peg Layton, vice president for enrollment and student services, dean of students. Not pictured are Timothy Tucker and Ray Martinez Jr.

Left to right, Dr. Randy Cutlip, Frances Hatch and Dr. Tim Summerlin at the presentation of the $100,000 gift from the late Mary Roche's estate in memory of former Schreiner library director Orin Hatch.

Melissa Romweber, Kevin Croft, Stephanie Gaines, and Crystal Brummett were inducted into the Schreiner University Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta in December. Sigma Tau Delta has more than 600 active chapters, and its central purpose is to confer distinction upon students who study the English language and literature in undergraduate, graduate and professional studies. Sigma Tau Delta recognizes members for their outstanding achievements, enriches their education and, helps with career choices and career advancement.

On Feb. 1, representing his sister, Mary Roche's estate Dr. Randy Cutlip presented a gift of $100,000 to Schreiner University's William Logan Library during a campus ceremony. Cutlip, Roche's brother and former Schreiner trustee, presented the gift in memory of the late Orin Hatch, Schreiner's former library director and a friend of Roche's. "As her brother, I experienced her love for many, many years," said Cutlip. "Now her love is for William Logan Library in memory of Orin Hatch, whose career she so admired." Schreiner University President Dr. Tim Summerlin expressed the university's appreciation to Roche, for "remembering the institution through a person who meant a lot to her." Dr. Candice Scott, director of Logan Library, said Roche's gift would benefit the students and other patrons of the library. "In the early '90s, Mr. Hatch helped Schreiner establish critical library services that improved life at the time, while also looking toward future needs and planned growth," Scott said. Hatch was the first librarian to bring the Online Computer Library Center to William Logan Library, effectively preparing the library and Schreiner for the 21st

continued on page 8

Online Giving

Supporting Schreiner University is easier than ever now. Please visit our Online Giving Web site at www.schreiner.edu/giving/ where you can make a secure gift—one that will benefit Schreiner students for years to come—in a matter of seconds. If you have questions, contact Mignonne Frantzen, director of development, MRFrantzen@schreiner.edu or call (830) 792-7208.